with Porto Rico." Mr. Foraker replied that his position had been set forth fully in the report on the Porto Rican government bill. The committee, he said, investigating the subject became convinced that the people of Porto Rico could not stand direct taxation. "This slight and not burdensome taxation," said Mr. Foraker, "was determined upon by the committee as a generous and merciful means of alleviating the suffering of the people of Porto Rico.

Mr. Tillman replied that he had not read the report written by Mr. Foraker, because he had not time to follow the vagaries of a committee which changed its mind every week. "The senator from Ohio has changed front on this subject," he declared. Mr. Foraker-The senator has no right to disbelieve any statement I may make. Mr. Tillman disavowed any intention of reflecting on Mr. Foraker's veracity, but replied, in connection with an editorial in can relief bill was presented, and 1 o'clock the Chicago Times-Herald: "The senator, I think, got out of the free-trade boat as soon as Mr. Kohlsaat (the editor of the Times-Herald) got into it."

FORAKER HITS KOHLSAAT. Mr. Foraker-I will say to the senator and in the presence of the Senate that I position since I learned that Mr. Kohlsaat had declared for free trade. [Laughter.] Continuing, Mr. Tillman said: "I believe that Mr. McKinley is one of the most lovbeet-sugar industry in the United States had induced the President, he [Perkins] elleved, to favor a tariff if it were true that he did favor it. Mr. Gallinger, who is a member of the committee on the Pacific islands and Porto Rico, said in that committee there had vide that which would be best for the in-

been but one thought, and that was to proterests of the islands and its inhabitants. "Destitute and suffering as these people are," said Mr. Gallinger, "we ought to pass this bill promptly, and not deal in such political diatribes as we have been treated Mr. Gallinger pointed out that four-fifths of the products exported from Porto Rico consisted of coffee. Upon this the United States placed no tariff, while Spain formerly levied a duty on coffee as well as upon some other Porto Rican products. "We are proposing to treat Porto Rico better than we treat any Territory of the United States. We collect internal revenue taxes in Oklahoma, Indian Territory and Arizona, and every dollar of it goes into the United States treasury. We shall collect internal revenue taxes in Porto Rico, too, but every dollar so collected will be returned to the Porto Ricans and be used for their benefit. The senator from South Carolina facetiously refers to the troubles which will overwhelm us next November. That has a familiar sound. The Democrats in my State always carry the fall election in March, but never in November.

So it is with the senator.' A BRITISH CONSUL'S TRUST. Mr. Gallinger declared that the legislation pending in the interest of the Porto Ricans was right and just and generous, and he was satisfied that on sober second thought the people who were now opposing it would heartily approve it. He said it was also a familiar cry that the trusts were controlling the Republican administration. "We heard that when Hawaii was annexed and free entry to our ports was given Hawaiian sugar. Now it is raised again when we propose to place a small duty on the products of Porto Rico for the benefit of the Porto Ricans themselves. The trust which is suffering," continued Mr. Gallinger, "is a trust headed by the British vice consul at San Juan. That trust bought up the sugar under the full Dingley rates, and if they can get it into this country free of duty they will make the full 100 per cent. of the tariff, but if we much and the people of Porto Rico will enefit to that extent. In the course of debate Mr. Tillman said: "We had some dares here yesterday, but the bobtailed flush of my friend from Ohio [Foraker] did not go through." Mr. Spooner protested against the making of political speeches on a measure like that now pending. Having referred to the manner in which Mr. Tillman had characterized the work of the Republican senators he and Mr. Tillman became involved in a controversy over the terms used by the South Carolina senator which leveloped considerable heat and ended by Mr. Spooner saying that in view of statements justifying ballot-box stuffing and the employment of the shotgun policy against the negues of the South he was "tired of hearing all this prattle from senators on the other side of the chamber about the rights of the Porto Ricans and the Filisinos. It ought to be understood that the senators on this side of the chamber are as anxious to do the right and just thing as are those on the other side. After presenting a brief but cogent argument in support of the conference report Mr. Spooner said that the 15 per cent, tariff was not intended as a protective duty. It | meningitis. had nothing to do with trusts. The only proposition, he said, which had in any way favored the trusts was the amendment offered by Mr. Jones, of Arkansas, to return the duties to those who had paid

SUCCESSFULLY DEFENDED TITLE AGAINST JOE GANS.

Latter's Left Eye Started from Socket in the Twelfth Round and He Was Forced to Quit.

NEW YORK, March 23 .- Frank Erne, of Euffalo, successfully defended his title of light weight champion of the world against Joe Gans (colored), of Baltimore, before the Broadway Athletic Club to-night. Erne did most of the heavy fighting, displaying better judgment and more skill than his opponent. Gans received his punishment gamely until the twelfth round, when his Epes, of Virginia, were deferred until 2 p. | left eye was started from its socket by a terrific right-hand swing from the Buffalo boy. Gans was helpless and there was no alternative for the referee but to award the decision to Erne.

There were many who wagered large sums of money that Gans would win the championship. There was so much Baltimore money in sight that Gans was made a favorite at 100 to 90 a week ago, and tonight the confidence of the Maryland people was so well established that they bet Euffalo at the ring side and every man of the party bet heavily on the little lad from their city, taking every bet offered by the Marylanders. One hundred to 70 on Gans was the best price offered and the Buffalo and who are willing to recognize the duties people snapped this up so quickly that the

At 9:35 Erne climbed through the ropes, His seconds were Frank Zimpfer, Joe Fitzpatrick and George Salter. Gans appeared about five minutes later and was accompanied by Al Herford, Harry Lyons and Caleb Bond. Before the men were introduced it was announced that George McFadden, of this city, would challenge

When Erne was introduced there were thunders of applause, but when the Baltiminister to Spain and was from there little enthusiasm. The men agreed to have a return match, no matter who won. Straight Queensberry rules governed tonight's contest. Each man stripped in perfect condition. Just as they were ready to begin hostilities Erne's manager, Robert Smith, stepped to the ring side and calling Erne over to him, said: "There shall be no judges for this bout. We will depend on the referee. The men shook hands at 9:55. Both were careful in the opening round, but each succeeded in landing a blow. In the second Erne rushed Gans and got in three good There was a hot exchange in the following which Gans put a straight left on Erne's jaw. At the bell the mer were in a mixup in Gans's corner. In the fourth Gans sent a well-directed left swing to the jaw, but Erne stepped in quickly and planted his right on the wind at close quarters. At close quarters Gans sent his right three times rapidly over the kidneys. Gans sent a right and left to the wind just before

At the opening of the fifth round Gans landed a left on the face and Erne returned a straight left, which was the hardest blow landed up to that time. There was a lot of fiddling in the sixth, Gans breaking ground. The negro stopped suddenly and swung his left to Erne's right eye, cutting it. Gans went in, sending right and left swings to the head, and Erne surprised everybody by replying with similar blows. Erne continued to slam both hands on the negro. reaching the latter's head half a dozen times, stopping Gans's rushing and forcing the negro to back away. Erne was bleed ing from mouth and nose at the bell.

Erne rushed and staggered Gans with right swing on the head in the seventh Soon afterwards Gans swung his left to the jaw, and Erne staggered, but quickly recovered and rushed back with left and right to the body. The next two rounds were in Erne's favor. In the tenth Erne rushed his man across the ring and planted a heavy left to the wind. Then he sent a straight left to the face and swung his out at close quarters. Gans planted a left on Erne's body. In the eleventh Erne was like a whirlwind, starting Gans with a left swing on the jaw, and both went at it hammer and tongs until the bell separated them, with Erne having the call by long odds. Erne opened the twelfth with a left smash on the eye and followed with one on the other eye. Then he smashed his right to the stomach, and Gans started towards Frank's corner staggering blindly. He dropped his hands to his sides, and Referee White, seeing that the negro was in distress, caught Gans, who said: "I'm blind; I can't see any more." White threw up both hands and told Erne to go to his corner. He then led the colored man to his corner, and for the first time saw that Gans's left eye was out of its socket. "Erne wins," shouted White, as Dr. Creamer jumped into the ring. He replaced the "My right did the trick," said Erne as he left the ring, and the Buffalo crowd carried him to his dressing room.

EASTERN BALL LEAGUE.

It May Put Clubs in Washington and Baltimore if It Desires.

NEW YORK, March 23 .- Whether Baltimore or Washington, the Eastern cities deserted by the National League, will become a part of the Eastern League circuit now rests entirley with the minor leaguers themselves. As a result of the conference between the committee appointed by the Eastern League and Colonel John I. Rogers, of the National League circuit committee, in Philadelphia to-day, an agreement was reached by which the Eastern League can include both Washington and Baltimore in its circuit. What the terms of the right to the face, but too high for a knock- agreement are could not be learned tonight, but according to President Powers, of the Eastern League, the agreement includes a proposition that is satisfactory to both organizations. William Barnie, of Hartford, one of the Eastern League committee which went to Philadelphia, to-night said: "The whole question is now up to us for decision. We have arrived at satisfactory terms with the National League people as to Washington and Baltimore. All that remains for us to do now is to select a circuit. It was decided to-day that the playing season of the Eastern League should open on Thursday, April 26. If the circuit consists of eight clubs, a 126-game schedule, instead of a 112-game, will be adopted. According to President Powers his schedule will conform as nearly as possible to that of the National League in the matter of open dates. There will be about twentynine off days in the National League schedule. The Eastern League schedule will. declared Mr. Powers, have the same dates open, so that inter-league games can be arranged. The date for the schedule meeting of President Powers.

Interstate League. CLEVELAND, O., March 23 .- The Interstate Baseball League met to-night at the Hollenden. A schedule calling for 140 games was presented and will be ratified later. The season will open April 28 and close Sept. 16. Dayton will open the season at Fort Wayne. New Castle at Wheeling, Columbus at Youngstown, and Mansfield at Toledo. All the clubs will play Sunday ball except Masfield and New Castle. It was decided to increase the pay of umpires from $160 to $200 per month. Columbus is a new member of the league.

ASK LOWER DUTIES.

Cuban Planters Want a Reduction of the Tariff.

HAVANA, March 23.-The Society of Planters visited the senators' commission to-day and requested aid in the effort to procure a lowering of duties on Cuban sugar sent into the United States and upon machinery imported into Cuba. They asked also for increased facilities in the matter of immigration and for help in settling the question of liabilities of land debtors. The committee presented a report on this last point, asking the senators to forward it to Washington. This report says denounce a protective tariff as a Chinese | in part: "At the end of the time named by President McKinley within which creditors may not take steps toward the recovery of money lent a serious question will be presented to the government and to the society. The government will find that the measures adopted to palliate the difficulties of the situation of the creditor have only made that situation worse. The society sees its productive forces paralyzed by the instability of the relations between debtor and creditor. The society suggests that bonds be issued which might be given to the debtors in accordance with the value of their land, and the debtors could then pay their creditors with bonds. We ask that landholders be allowed ten years to repay the bonds in cash, canceling out standing interest." Governor General Wood tc-day issued an known to be so represented. The charter in the case is likely to be filed on Monday of next week, and it is proposed on Tuesday and Wednesday of next week to close all the preliminaries to hold the directors' meeting here at Pittsburg and to elect the officers of the comrany and arrange every other matter of detail, all of which are at present fixed by agreements in writing, but which are not accessible to the public There was a conference this evening at the Duquesne Club between Mr. Dill. as representing Mr. Carnegie's interests primarily, and Mr. H. C. Frick, Mr. Henry Phipps, jr., Mr. Lovejoy and others. The object of the conference could not be ascertained, but it was supposed to be to arrange some minor matters of detail. Mr. C. M. Schwab, president of the company, left for New York to-night, it is supposed, to confer with Mr. Carnegie and others in that city.

It is absolutely safe to state that all of the matters of difference have been adjusted, the suits have been withdrawn, the properties are all arranged for transfer under the power of attorney, as stated above, and the conferences which may be had from now until the close are simply to arrange matters of detail, possibly involving the question of the relative subordinate positions in the large company.

NOT A RATE-CUTTER.

President Callaway, of the New York

Central, Defends His Road.

NEW YORK, March 23 .- President Callaway, of the New York Central, said to-day that the Chicago dispatches in which the Vanderbilt lines were accused of taking heavy shipments at rates below the established tariffs were absolutely without foundation. No business has been contracted for, he said, except at full rates. "The Vanderbilt policy," he continued, "is to make an open rate and to maintain it fairhas been laid open, subject to the decision | ly until it is proved that business cannot be secured at that figure. When reductions are made they are such as experience shows to be necessary to induce freight to move, and then the altered rates are regularly and openly made. Referring to the putting in of the recent twenty-cent grain rate from Chicago and its subsequent reduction. Mr/ Callaway said he had opposed the fixing of the rate on so high a basis, holding that no business could be obtained with it in force. "It turned out," he said, "exactly as I predicted. The rate was made, but no business was carried, and there was nothing to do but to bring the rate down to a figure which would attract traffic. Mr. Callaway further pointed out that the rail transportation rates are fixed by the Liverpool price. Ocean freights absorb a proportion of this, the shippers a good part, and the railroads have only the balance. "At present, the withdrawal of so many ships from the ocean trade by the English government for war services has sent up the shipping prices," he said. "These will have to come down, or the price of grain at Liverpool go up. The available freight room at New York is not adequate to the demand of shippers. We have now 500 loads of hay waiting to be loaded. Ordinarily the ship agents would be running after us to get this freight, but now it seems impossible to arrange for its shipment at any possible

A Maximum Rate Case.

OMAHA, Neb., March 23.-In the United States Court to-day Judge Munger rendered a decision in the injunction case brought by the railroads against the State Board of Transportation. The court holds that, under the decision of the Supreme Court in the "maximum rate case," the Board of Transportation has a right to enforce regulation, and rates not embraced within the provisions of that law. The first of these orders restored carload rates in place of the hundredweight rates

RHEUMATISM

Brown Remedy Co.-Sirs: I have had the Rheumatism for several years. But last winter had a very severe attack in my knee; suffered a great deal at times, and could hardly walk for months. Finally was induced to try your cure. After using several bottles, found it was helping me so I continued until I have taken eight bottles and feel that there is no more needed, as I feel like another person. Unless it returns will think your medicine is the thing for Rheumatism. I have been recommending it to my friends here who are sorely afflicted with the disease.

Respectfully, MRS. M. The medicine is put up in pint bottles, $1, three for $2.75, or six for $5. Write to us of your suffering and we will tell what we can do for you. Address

There Stands Indiana. St. Louis Globe-Democrat. One trouble with the Democrats who are now pretending that Indiana is going to rise against the Republican party is they imagine that the same elements who opened fire in the rear against the Union armies in 1861-65 are still powerful in that State. If those persons take a glance at the election returns they will see that Indiana has made a new departure since The Western Union of Fire Underwriters days when the military commanders in its will hold its next meeting in September at | neighborhood were sending delegations from that State to Fort Lafayette, Fort Warren and other places of detention for Captain Mahan is to have the honorary the enemies of their country. The Republicans have been carrying Indiana pretty constantly since 1894, and sometimes by good-sized majorities. There is no good reason to suppose that Indiana will drop back into the discreditable affiliation in Frank Garmont, a wealthy farmer, killed which it found itself during the days of Oliver P. Morton and for a few years after his time. For many years Indiana figured in the list of doubtful States. It got itself out of that category half a dozen years
